

EP uniTool NEWS

ISSUE 03 | DECEMBER 2021

Half a year already....

Almost half a year our EP uniTool has been live for internal use. Half a year with more releases and improvements and a lot of work that will continue next year.

EP uniTool & product launches

EP uniTool is not a new website - it is a technical knowledge sharing hub. Spreading information about new initiatives and products - and product launches also belong here in EP uniTool.....This will together with more initiatives be intensified in the new year.

Latest news

In the backend two new important components have been completed: Image manager and asset manager, file storage for photos and assets as datasheets (and drawings, which will follow..)

Two more conveyor types are added to the calculation part:
Side flexing multi chain conveyor with 1 curve and end drive.
Side flexing multi chain conveyor with 2 curves and end drive.
Not least:
Calculations with accumulation are now possible.

In pipeline

Build your own catalogue: Possibility for the user to create a customized catalog/document - collecting documents in EP uniTool such as datasheets and learning articles.

Illustrations that will support the calculation are getting closer to be released.

External release of EP uniTool is being prepared - expected launch January 2022.
